David Lipscomb College has meant many things to many people over the years. Since its beginning in 1891 as the Nashville Bible School, the college has been an institution dedicated to the study of the Bible and to general academic excellence. The plan for the college was first conceived in 1888 when David Lipscomb and James A. Harding met together to discuss the possibility of a Christian college. The Nashville Bible School opened in 1891 in a rented house on Fillmore Street in Nashville with nine young men enrolled as students. Before the year's end thirty-two students were in attendance. After one year in a rented building on South Cherry Street, the school moved to property on South Spruce Street. The school remained at this location for ten years during which it was incorporated under the laws of Tennessee and given the right to confer degrees.

As the college grew in size, David Lipscomb saw the need for a permanent campus. In keeping with his generous spirit, Lipscomb provided the college with a gift of his own farm property of about sixty-five acres located on Granny White Pike. The move to the Granny White campus was completed in October, 1903. The Avalon Home, Lipscomb's former home, was converted to a dormitory and Lipscomb and his wife built a new home on the campus, continuing to exert a great influence on the development of the college until their deaths.

It was David Lipscomb and James A. Harding who planted the seed that was to become David Lipscomb College but a host of others have contributed time, effort, and money to make the college what it is today. E. A. Elam served the school for twenty-five years, holding the offices of president, chairman of the Board of Directors, and head of the Bible department. The present Elam Hall was named in his honor. Dr. J. S. Ward led the school as a faculty member and administrator during a time when there was no permanent president. H. Leo Boles served the college during two periods in office, 1913-1920 and 1923-1932. During the first term of President Boles, in 1917, David Lipscomb died. In order to fulfill the wishes of the faculty and students, the name of the college was changed to David Lipscomb College. President Boles was instrumental in promoting scholarship and in gaining more financial support for the college.

In 1932 Batsell Baxter left Abilene Christian College to become president of Lipscomb. He led the college with great courage and strength of character during a time of economic depression and an uncertain future. Since 1946 Athens Clay Pullias has led the college with unselfish dedication and administrative skill. During his tenure in office, the college has grown to be characterized by academic and financial strength and by spiritual power. The college has grown in enrollment, in faculty strength, and in physical facilities.

It would not be possible to chronicle all of those who have made contributions to the growth of David Lipscomb College, but special mention must be made of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burton, who at the time of Mr. Burton's death in 1966 had given more to David Lipscomb College than any Tennessean had ever given to any cause. Their generosity has inspired many others to join their efforts in behalf of the college. Today's Lipscomb is the sum total of all the efforts of countless individuals, including members of the Board of Directors, administrators, faculty members, students, and patrons. The strength of Lipscomb today is an eloquent expression of their dedication to the cause of Christian education.

This is the heritage of the Lipscomb student of today. During his years at Lipscomb, the student senses this heritage and is influenced by it. Many students are children, grandchildren, or great-grandchildren of former Lipscomb students. The common bond of Christianity strengthens the Lipscomb family through the years. The external features of the college, the buildings and trees and parking lots, change over the years, but the true spirit of Lipscomb remains the same as in the beginning. Great men and worthy ideals make up this spirit of Lipscomb and provide a proud past, a progressive present, and an optimistic future.

What is the significance of a student's years at Lipscomb? How can he evaluate a few years of study, going to classes, chapel services, registration, attending or participating in athletic events, plays, musical programs, term papers, social occasions, dormitory antics, final exams, and a host of other activities? If he can say that he has learned something about himself, that he has learned something about others, that he has tasted both victory and defeat, that he has sensed both inspiration and apathy, that he has experienced friendship and love, that he has matured in his Christianity, then he is the greatest of successes.

When the graduate returns to the Lipscomb campus, perhaps years after graduation, he will notice superficial changes. But, as he walks across the campus, a flood of memories will undoubtedly come to his mind. He will notice a particular building or location and immediately associate it with a particular student that he knew or with a particular event of which he was a part. He may meet a teacher that he grew to admire and respect. He may feel that sense of nostalgia that tends to bring to mind the good things and eliminate the bad. He will feel that feeling shared by Lipscomb's students, faculty, administrators, and the rest of the Lipscomb family. He will feel that feeling that is difficult to put into words. He will feel a sense of place.

Price of Oil Won't Drop, Arabs Indicate

VIENNA (AP) — Ministers of the world's chief oil exporting countries failed to agree on oil prices yesterday, but did indicate that prices wouldn't go down.

The meeting lasted six hours and another meeting was set for today.

"I can tell you one thing, oil prices will not go down," Iran's finance minister, Jamshid Amuzegar, told newsmen as the ministers emerged from the closed door meeting.

OIL PRICES have tripled since last October.

Amuzegar was chairman of the conference of ministers, whose countries handle 80% of the world's oil exports. Another session was scheduled today to discuss whether oil prices should be reduced, maintained at their present level or increased.

The extension of the oil price conference will delay a meeting of Arab oil ministers at which they were to make a final decision whether or not to lift their five-month-old embargo against the United States.

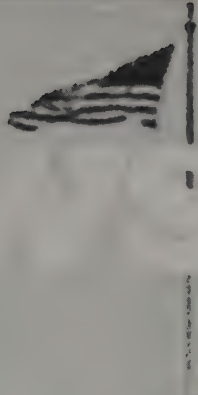

The Arab meeting had been scheduled for this morning but is now being delayed until at least the afternoon, conference officials said.

President Nixon and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger have said the boycott should end in recognition of U.S. diplomatic efforts to move Israel and the Arab belligerents closer to peace.

Kissinger has said a reduction of world oil prices is also a U.S. demand.

Pleads No Conte

SPIRO AGNEW PROBATION

Washington (AP)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew resigned today, his historic decision announced by a weeping staff secretary.

Agnew then pleaded no contest in federal court in Baltimore to a single count of federal income tax evasion.

The Vice President, his face drawn, entered the plea before U.S. District Court Judge Walter E. Hoffman.

Hoffman told the Vice President he considered the no contest plea the equivalent of an admission of guilt.

Hoffman sentenced Agnew to the maximum $10,000 fine and placed him on probation without supervision for three years.

Vice President Agnew has reportedly resigned at the direct request of President Nixon, a capitol source told The Banner.

Nixon is said to have called Agnew to the White House Tuesday night and demanded his resignation.

Agnew left the courthouse at about 1:40 p.m. CDT, stepping into a limousine for an unknown destination.

Editorial page columns by Frank van der Linden and William S. White (page 10) were written prior to Vice President Agnew's resignation; related stories on page 7.

Agnew told newsmen that the Justice Department has not been fully prosecuting witnesses in the case.

Witnesses against him had received either full or partial immunity, Agnew said.

Waving to bystanders, he drove off.

He had attended a hearing in which he and Al

Richardson were seated in a courtroom for 30 minutes.

Agnew's resignation means President Nixon will name to Congress a nominee to succeed the vice president. The Nixon nominee would take over the presidency upon approval by both branches of Congress.

In a statement to the court, Agnew said his decision to resign "rests on my firm belief that the public interest requires swiftest disposition" of his case. Agnew entered his plea of no contest to the criminal charge filed by U.S. Atty. George Beall.

Agnew said that had not an agreement been reached with the government, and had he been in court, the case would have dragged on for two or three years, an "intense media interest in the case would distract public attention from other matters of national importance."

Richardson announced in the Baltimore courtroom that the Justice Department had recommended that Agnew not be imprisoned, on grounds that his resignation and conviction on the tax charge served as sufficient punishment.

The criminal information said Agnew filed a false joint income tax return for 1967 and said he had income of $26,099 and that he owed taxes of $6,416 while in fact his income was $55,599 carrying taxes of $19,967.47.

Richardson told the court that the investigation of kickbacks in Maryland politics during the time Agnew was governor and Baltimore County executive produced evidence which "establishes a pattern of substantial cash payments to the defendant (Agnew) during the period when he served as governor of Maryland in return for engineering contracts with the state of Maryland."

INTERVIEW

Dan Dozier

1. WHAT DOES LIPSCOMB AS A SENSE OF PLACE MEAN TO YOU?

Unlike most Lipscomb students, I have been a student nine years, five of them as a high school student. Although Lipscomb as a place means much to me, it has significance only because of the people I have known here. Most of my ideals, my hopes, and my ambitions I owe to the marvelous people on this campus. It is them I will remember.

2. HOW DO YOU THINK LIPSCOMB BEST PREPARES YOU FOR A MODERN WORLD?

My education at Lipscomb has helped me see that everything around me is changing, and how to understand those changes. But more important, it has taught me to evaluate this change in light of the Christian framework. That frame of reference will help me the rest of my life.

3. HOW DO YOU THINK WORLD HISTORY WILL BE AFFECTED BY THE OIL CRISIS?

Our world may be slowed momentarily by the oil crisis, but not stopped. Certainly, the present problem can be called a crisis in terms of the shortage of oil, but mankind will solve this difficulty by developing new sources and harnessing present resources of energy. Until then maybe we can all slow down and get to know each other better.

4. WHAT EFFECT WILL WATERGATE HAVE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE?

Watergate has forced more Americans to distrust their government than ever before, and that is regrettable. But if it has a good effect, it will be evidenced in a more concerned and involved electorate—people trying to make sure that the coming administrations practice more integrity, honesty, and leadership.

1. WHAT DOES LIPSCOMB AS A SENSE OF PLACE MEAN TO YOU?

Friends. I guess that's the biggest reason that it will always remain a "Sense of Place" to all of us. I don't think that anywhere in the world one can find the kind of people we have here. Friends at DLC are the type who will do anything for you and never wonder when the favor will be returned. As long as we live after we leave school, I can't help but think that Lipscomb will be a "Sense of Place" in our memories, and we'll see it as a place we belonged and never really wanted to leave.

2. HOW DO YOU THINK LIPSCOMB BEST PREPARES YOU FOR A MODERN WORLD?

Lipscomb has prepared me, and I imagine a lot of people here, for the modern world in a way that we aren't expecting until we stop and think about it. It's true that DLC is in a somewhat sheltered atmosphere, but in a sense, that's good. We've each had several years of concentrated study in the Bible and related Christian areas, and to me, that's the most important preparation.

3. HOW DO YOU THINK WORLD HISTORY WILL BE AFFECTED BY THE OIL CRISIS?

I really don't think that the oil crisis is going to make a large impact as far as world history is concerned. In American history, there will probably be a point in time where the American people finally wake up to the fact that once again, as in the early 1900's, we're being manipulated by big business looking for big profits. In addition, it will also be the same point in time that we realized that resources are capable of depletion, even for Americans.

4. WHAT EFFECT WILL WATERGATE HAVE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE?

In some ways, Watergate will have the same startling effect on Americans, as the oil crisis. It will make us wake up. I imagine the conditions that existed in the Watergate situation have existed for some time, but were unknown to the American public because of their non-involvement in the affairs of their country. Maybe now, people will be afraid that the government is getting away from them and drifting into the hands of unfair or dishonest politicians, and get involved.

INTERVIEW

Gary Underwood

1. WHAT DOES LIPSCOMB AS A SENSE OF PLACE MEAN TO YOU?

A person must first determine where he is before he can know where he is going. Lipscomb has helped me obtain that sense of place, so that I can better pursue my goals.

2. HOW DO YOU THINK LIPSCOMB BEST PREPARES YOU FOR A MODERN WORLD?

Obviously, Lipscomb has helped prepare me academically for the modern world. More importantly, however, Lipscomb has confronted me with questions and ideas that have helped me evaluate my goals, my purpose, and myself.

3. HOW DO YOU THINK WORLD HISTORY WILL BE AFFECTED BY THE OIL CRISIS?

I hope that the most profound result of the energy crisis will be an auspicious change in American economic position and policy. The American people represent only 6% of the world's population, but they consume roughly 60% of the world's production from natural resources. The energy crisis has not only encouraged frugality, but may also precipitate scientific and technological achievement that can provide a more equitable distribution of the world's resources through new energy sources.

4. WHAT EFFECT WILL WATERGATE HAVE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE?

In the short run, Watergate will continue to produce bad effects—frustration, disillusionment, insecurity. However, in the long run this fallen countenance may have desirable effects. The public may become less susceptible to unwarranted authoritative intimidation. This less submissive public attitude would make it more difficult for unscrupulous politicians to deceive the public and would check capricious government actions.

INTERVIEW

Judy Cherry

1. WHAT DOES LIPSCOMB AS A SENSE OF PLACE MEAN TO YOU?

As a graduating senior, it will be hard for me to leave what I've considered my home for the past four years. I hope time won't ever diminish the close feelings that I now have for all of the students who make Lipscomb what it is. If I'm fortunate enough to be able to revisit this campus in the future, the scenes I will recall the most will be those involving good friends and good times. Lipscomb stands as a reminder of some of my most rewarding years.

2. HOW DO YOU THINK LIPSCOMB BEST PREPARES YOU FOR A MODERN WORLD?

It's hard to be exposed to a certain sense of values for four years without being affected. Lipscomb provides a frame of reference wherein solutions to any questions may be found. The interpersonal relationships which grow at Lipscomb provide a good foundation for dealing with life and its problems. The best preparation does not occur in the classroom, but rather outside the room where one learns how to successfully relate to people and the world.

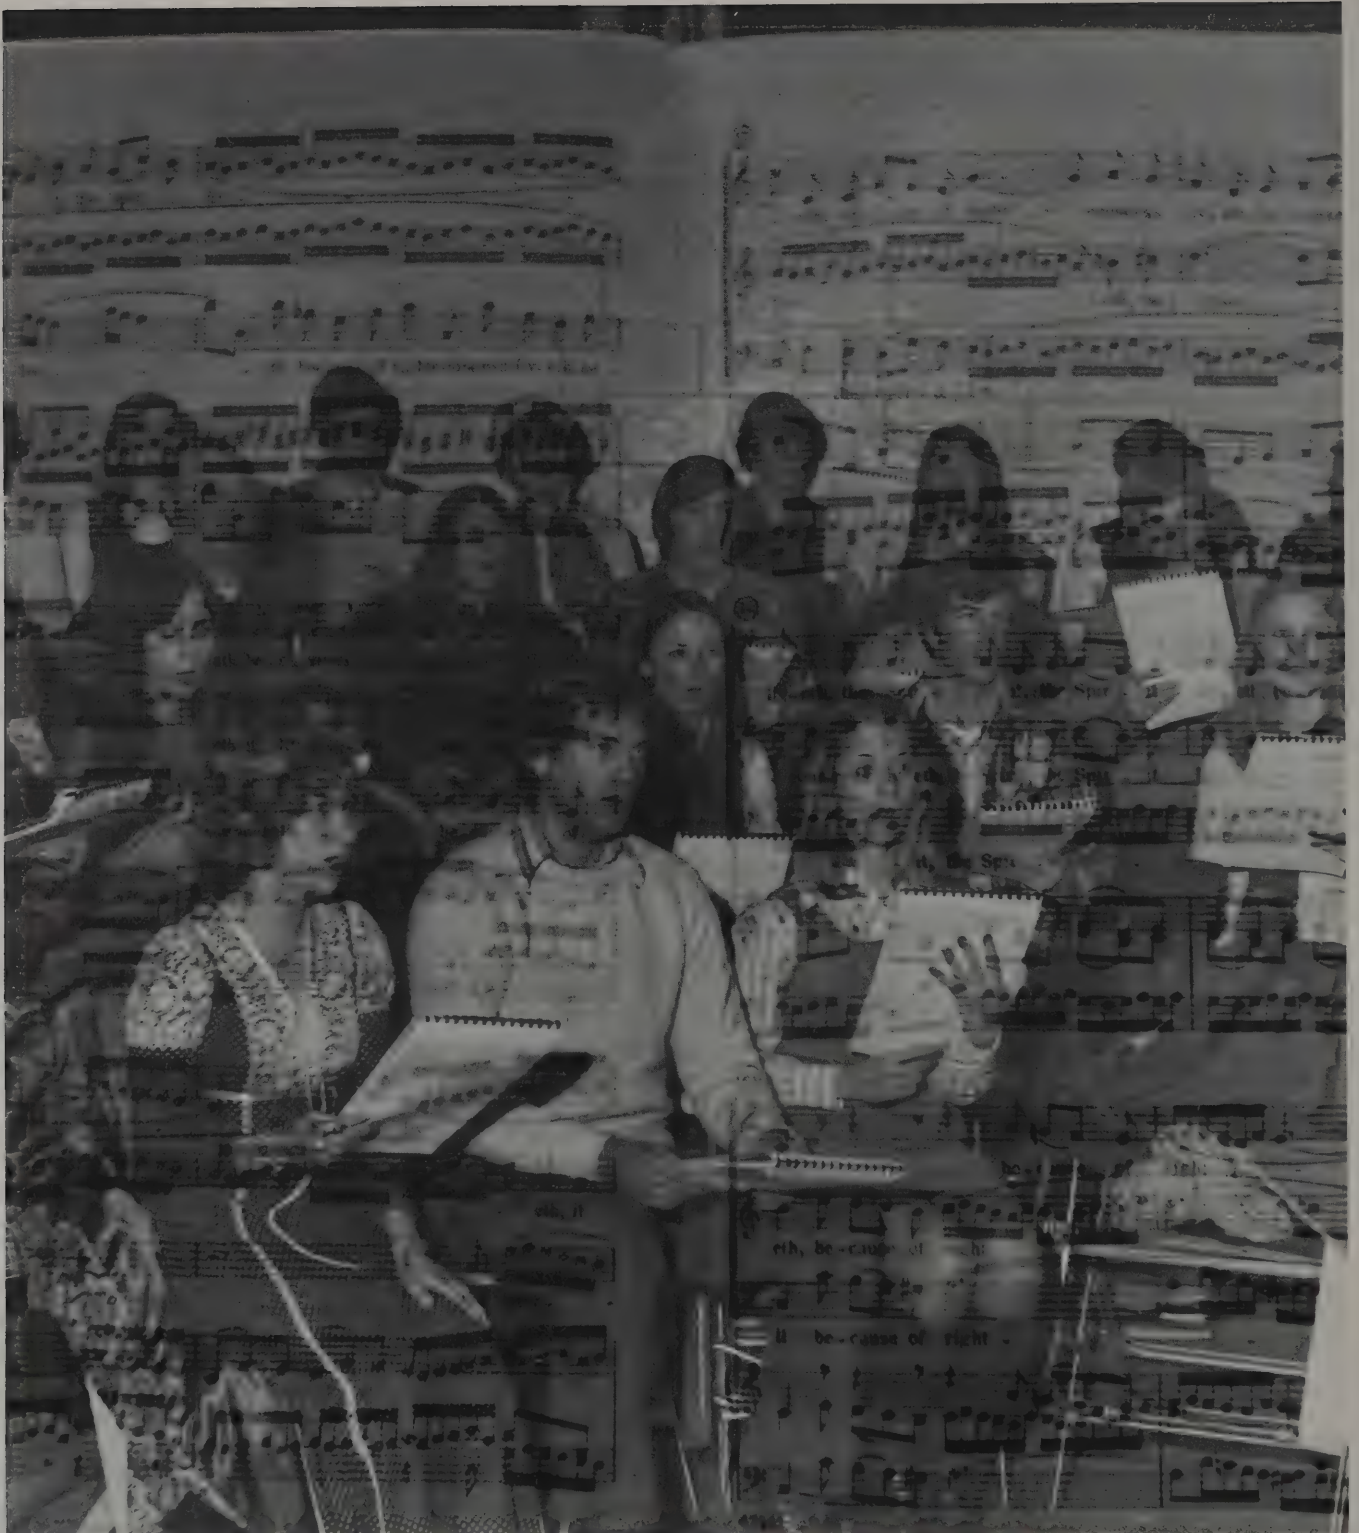

3. HOW DO YOU THINK WORLD HISTORY WILL BE AFFECTED BY THE OIL CRISIS?

I personally feel that history will record the oil crisis as one of the major obstacles that the ecology movement will ever have to face. The United States has already suspended many of its environmental laws as the ecology movement takes a back seat to the oil industries. Unless new sources ease the energy crunch, world history could see this age as one of declining economics all over the world.

4. WHAT EFFECT WILL WATERGATE HAVE ON THE AMERICAN PEOPLE?

Watergate marks a great tragedy on the American political scene. Hopefully, its effect on the American people will be all for the good. There is a swelling demand for more scrutiny of public officials and an increased desire for more response on the part of the nation's leaders to the needs of the average American.

LOVE OF GOD

LOVE OF MAN

APRIL 1974—

Whether or not mother nature meant the tornado as a late April Fool joke, the students at Lipscomb found the storm to be no laughing matter. One of the biggest on-campus events in years, the storm spun across the campus in fury. Emotions ran from one end of the spectrum to another—from sheer delight at the prospect of missing the next day's classes to utter despair at the damage the storm caused. The sky was ominously dark the whole day, though becoming emerald green just preceding the moment that the storm unleashed its entire fury upon Lipscomb. After the worst was over, the campus buzzed with activity as students inspected damage to cars, trees, the scoreboard, the flagpole, and the tennis courts. By the next day, in typical Lipscomb style, all was back to normal or at least close.

Bible, as always, continues to be the backbone of Lipscomb academics. Students may be assured of receiving a solid foundation of religious knowledge under the instruction of learned and dedicated men. The training which we receive here will remain a fundamental part of our lives in the future and of the lives of those whom we influence.

BIBLE

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The business administration department, which offers courses in accounting, business management, economics, and secretarial studies, is headed by Dr. Axel Swang. The subjects taught in this curriculum are designed to prepare young men and women for playing vital roles in the world of business.

Walter Rogers, Professor; Dorothy Eubanks, Instructor; Charles Frasier, Instructor; Axel Swang, Professor and Chairman of Department; Harold Wilson, Associate Professor; Patty L. Dugger, Associate Professor.

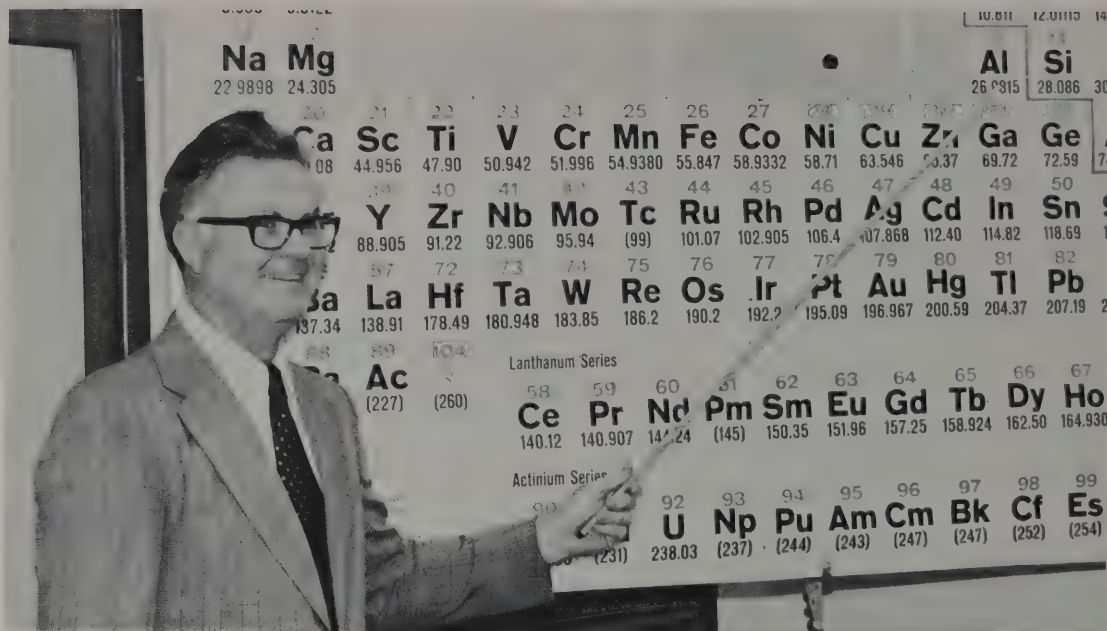

Robert E. Hooper, Professor and Chairman of Department; Perry Cotham, Assistant Professor; Patrick Deese, Associate Professor; Norman Trevathan, Associate Professor; James McDonough, Associate Professor; Lewis Maiden, Professor.

We each live in the midst of and are affected by history and the workings of political systems. The immediacy of much of the material studied is what makes the subjects taught in the Department of History and Political Science of interest to everybody.

HISTORY AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

Let it never be said that the Lipscomb chemistry major lives with his nose in a book. Long hours of mutual misery in searching for unknowns leads to a departmentally characteristic camaraderie and intellectual pride among the chemistry enthusiasts. Fortunately, their camaraderie found constructive release in some lively inter-departmental softball competition.

CHEMISTRY

David O. Johnston, Professor; John T. Netterville, Professor and Chairman of Department; Jill Robertson, Assistant Professor; Paul Langford, Professor; John Dawson, Associate Professor; James L. Wood, Associate Professor.

Willis Owens, Professor; Anita Christy, Lab Assistant; Oliver Yates, Professor and Chairman of Department; Donald Haslam, Assistant Professor; Russell Artist, Professor; Johnnie Breeden, Professor.

BIOLOGY

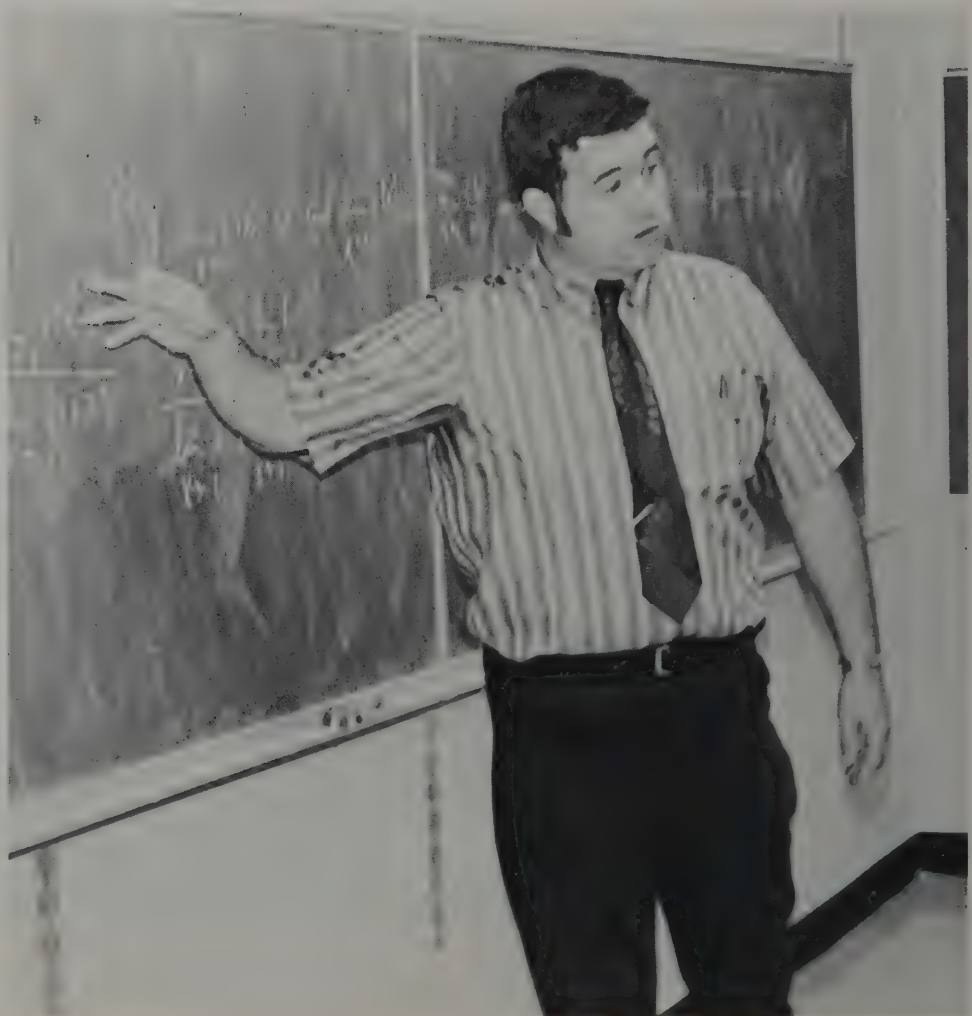

Dr. Oliver Yates, Chairman of the Department of Biology, and his fellow professors of the life science offer the third floor scholars a lively search for knowledge. At Lipscomb a special collection of astonishing asides make for interesting lectures as they demand reverence for a God who could accomplish so intricately perfect a creation.

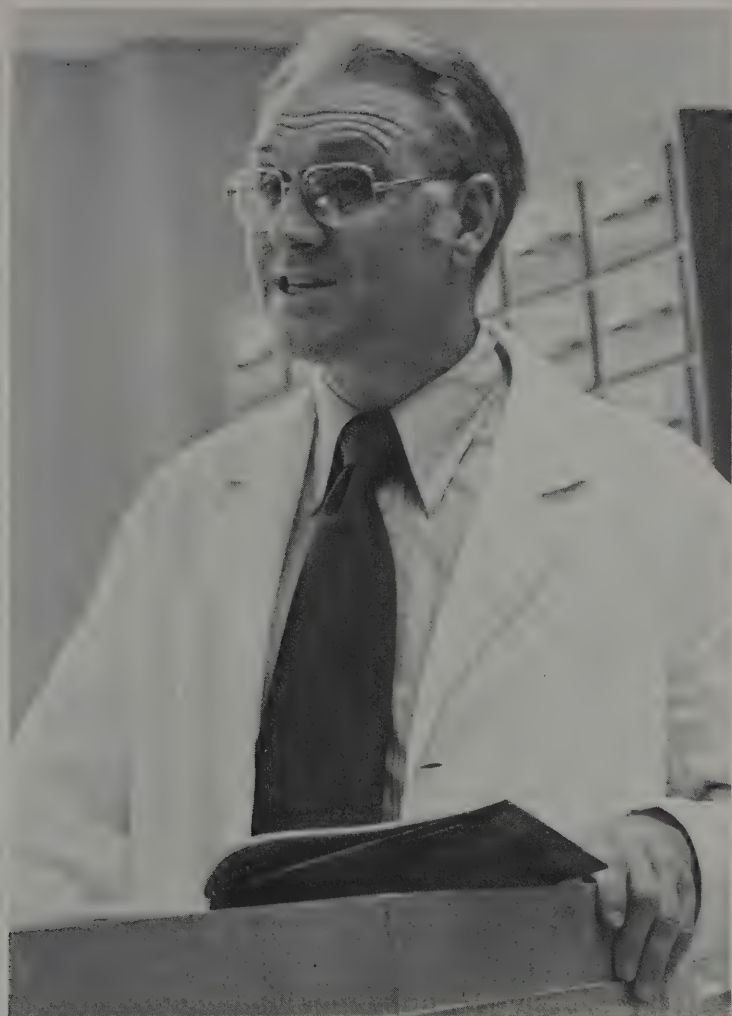

Austin French, Assistant Professor; Ralph Bryant, Associate Professor; Raymond Dodd, Associate Professor; Marvin Nikolaus, Assistant Professor; Earl Dennis, Associate Professor; Robert Kerce, Professor and Chairman of Department; John Holland, Assistant Professor.

MATHEMATICS

Calculus, Set Theory, Senior Analysis, Topology—most unfamiliar terms to laymen, yet David Lipscomb's Mathematics Department imparts vital knowledge in these and many other areas, preparing the undergraduate mathematician for careers in business, education, and post-graduate study. Under the direction of Dr. Robert Kerce, Lipscomb's mathematical community is well qualified to explore and expand the world of mathematics.

PHYSICS

To those who avoid their courses, they are those frighteningly brilliant men who brave the tables of the CRC HANDBOOK. To the few who can make a game of the proofs, physicists are educated children who still play with toys. But even so, those toys are hard to enjoy when the bat cracks and the crowd cheers outside. . . .

Robert Kerce, Professor and Acting Chairman of Department; Ralph Butler, Associate Professor; Fletcher Srygley, Associate Professor; Ralph Nance, Associate Professor; Gary Phillips, Instructor; Franklin Kyle, Assistant Professor.

ART

Rudolph Sanders, Instructor; John C. Hutcheson, Jr., Assistant Professor and Chairman of Department.

The Lipscomb Art Department effectively prepares the student auspicious participation in artistic creativity. The combined talents of Mr. John Hutcheson and Mr. Rudy Sanders provide a stimulating impetus for the creative potential of art students.

Richard VanDyke, Instructor; Frances Hill, Professor and Chairman of Department; Marion Cawood, Instructor; Gerald Moore, Assistant Professor; Dewight Lanham, Instructor.

MUSIC

The enlightening art of music is taught very capably at Lipscomb. Fine chorus, bands, and individual musicians lead this department. The ability to perform well can be taught, but one must also have natural ability.

Jean Thompson, Instructor; Sue Berry, Professor; Constance Fulmer, Assistant Professor; Morris Landiss, Professor and Chairman of Department; Eunice Bradley, Instructor; Mary Collins, Instructor; Cynthia Dilgard, Assistant Professor.

ENGLISH

The English student at Lipscomb not only receives a comprehensive appreciation of great literature, but also attains consummate skills in reading and writing. The English Department not only provides stimulating classroom instruction but also encourages extracurricular learning through club activities and independent research.

Gladys Gooch, Assistant Professor; David Howard, Instructor; Sara Whitten, Professor and Chairman of Department.

As the world grows smaller, the need for effective communication and proper understanding between different peoples grows larger. Lipscomb students receive comprehensive and intensive instruction in the various language fields.

MODERN LANGUAGES

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Learning to win or lose gracefully can be one of life's most needed lessons. Promoting physical, social, and mental growth, the Physical Education Department encourages the development of the well rounded individual. The interplay of sound minds and healthy bodies produces an active, vibrant society.

HOME ECONOMICS

Considered by some to be mere bed making, the skills taught by the Home Economics Department are actually creative arts. The development of the "worthy woman," one who can build a home in a house or follow a career in the home sciences, is an enormous task.

Thomas C. Whitfield, Professor and Chairman of Department; James W. Costello, Associate Professor; D. H. Wilkinson, Professor; Franklin Jones, Associate Professor; Margaret L. Hopper, Associate Professor; John Brown, Professor; Willis Wells, Associate Professor.

EDUCATION

The future of America is largely molded by the teacher. The Education Department provides the Lipscomb student with an excellent background in the methods and techniques of the educational process.

Why is the Speech Department regionally renowned? We can say that this is so for three reasons. First, the speech professors drum the principles of clear, effective communication into the heads of their pupils. Second, the clever pupils utilize these principles to win debate tournaments and to produce entertaining drama. And third, Dr. Ellis never hesitates to make his presence known, whether in the chapel balcony or in a regional speech convention. This is why speech at Lipscomb is a significant field of study.

SPEECH

Edward Neelley, Instructor; Perry Cotham, Assistant Professor; Marlin Connelly, Associate Professor; Fred Walker, Associate Professor; Jay Roberts, Instructor; Carroll Brooks Ellis, Professor and Chairman of Department.

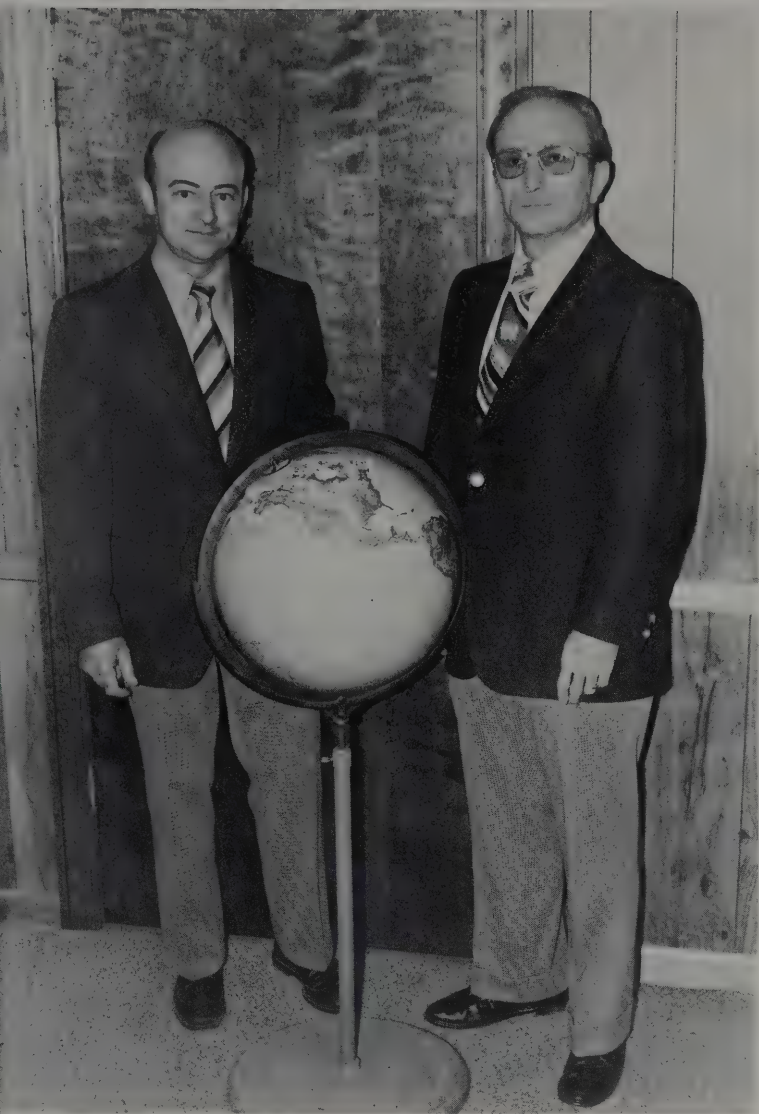

David Glasgow, Instructor; Gary Wilson, Assistant Professor; Dean Dail Freetly, Associate Professor; Ralph Samples, Associate Professor and Chairman of Department.

PSYCHOLOGY

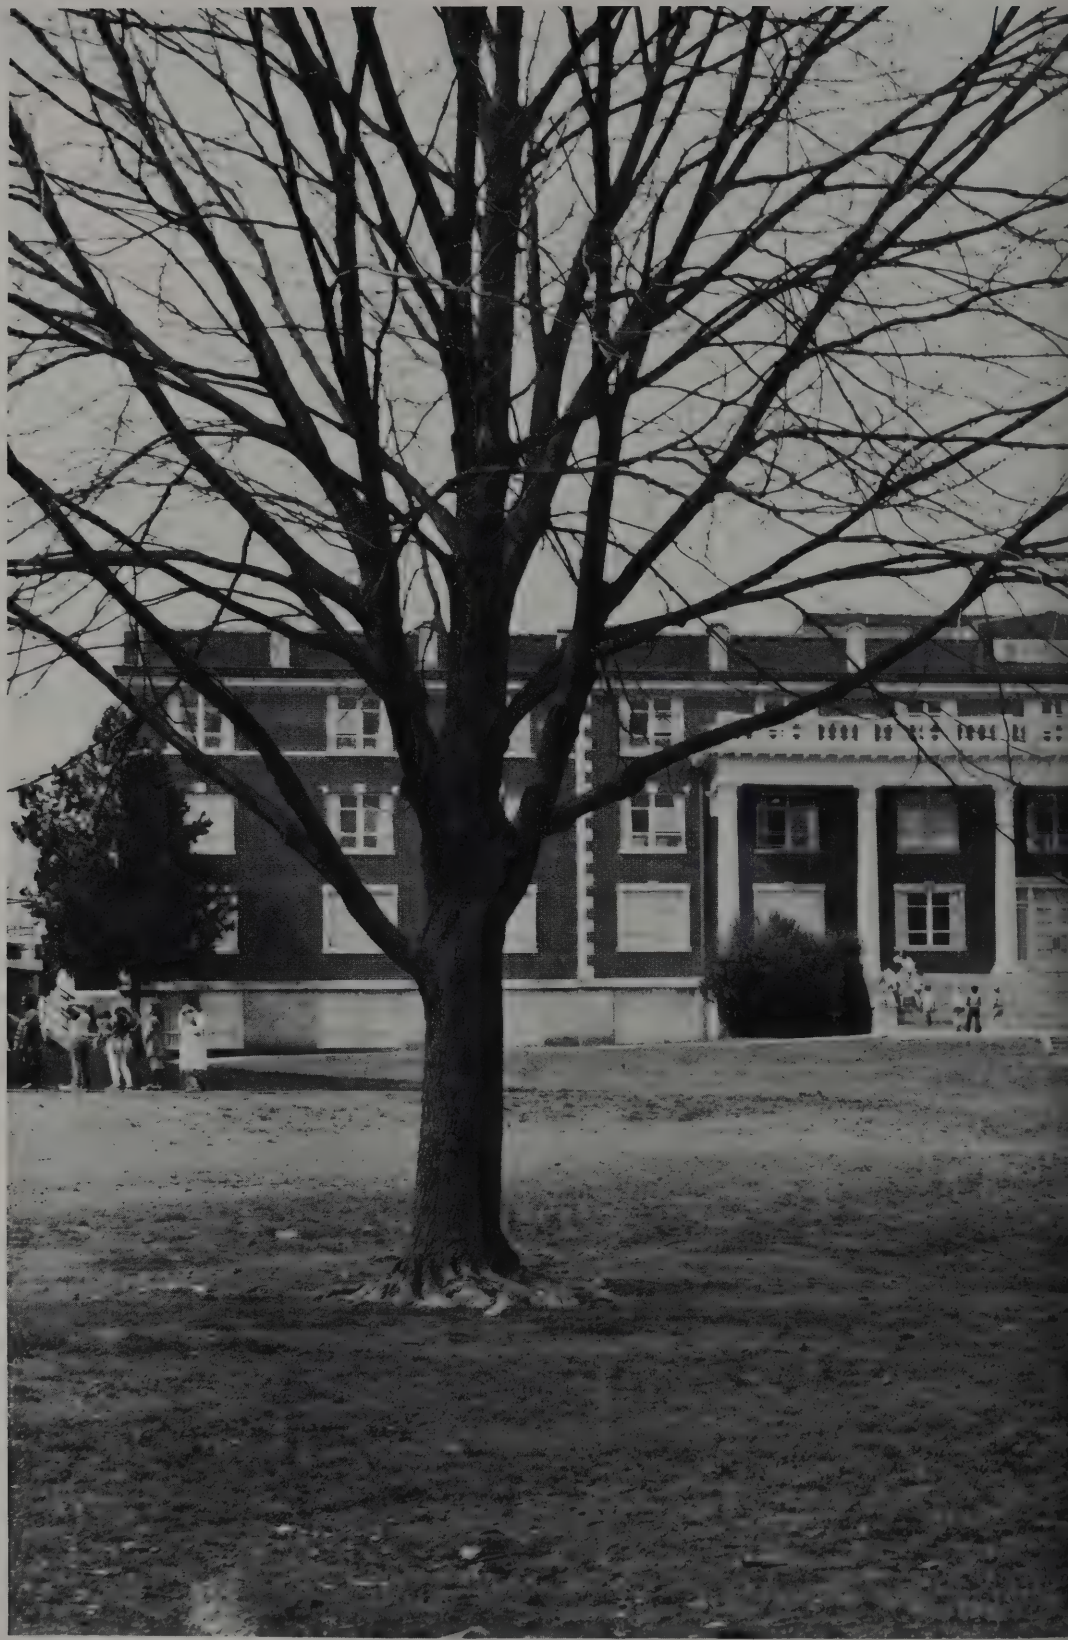

Again the Psychology Department faced a building year. The department benefited by the addition of David Glasgow's inventive wit. Man's oldest mystery is his own multidynamic self . . . for those who mastered the terminology, that self became a little less mysterious and a bit more wonderful.

Hollis Todd, Professor; Nathaniel Long, Jr., Professor and Chairman of Department.

SOCIOLOGY

Although social analysts proclaim 1974 a time when social action and help for the unfortunate were dying out, Lipscomb students seemed more involved than ever in reaching out to people. Drs. Long, Todd, and Martin continued to dispel myths and impart insights into interpersonal relationships in the hope that their students can better the world.

ACADEMIC LEADERS

December Class

The achievement of academic excellence requires consistently outstanding scholastic effort. The scholars who receive the awards of Valedictorian and Salutatorian are characterized by dedication to their studies as well as by innate intellectual ability. Those who receive these awards would be the first to admit that success in college is not measured by grade point average alone; however, it is certainly appropriate that those who have achieved greatness in this area receive recognition. The true scholar is not motivated by pride or selfishness but, rather, by a desire to do his best so that he may be highly qualified to help his fellow man during his lifetime. The true scholar is characterized by humility because he realizes how much there is to know.

HOMECOMING EXALTS

Homecoming is the biggest event on our campus each year. Alumni from all over the nation come to renew old friendships as well as make new ones. The homecoming activities began this year beautifully with the social club projects, with Sigma Chi Delta producing the winning project. Much time and hard work were spent on the projects as the students and alumni always enjoy them. Homecoming day was highlighted by the crowning of Miss Johnnie Ruth Brown as Homecoming Queen of 1974. Many wonderful memories will always come from Homecoming and 1974 was no exception.

BABBLER and BACKLOG

LAURA LOWREY

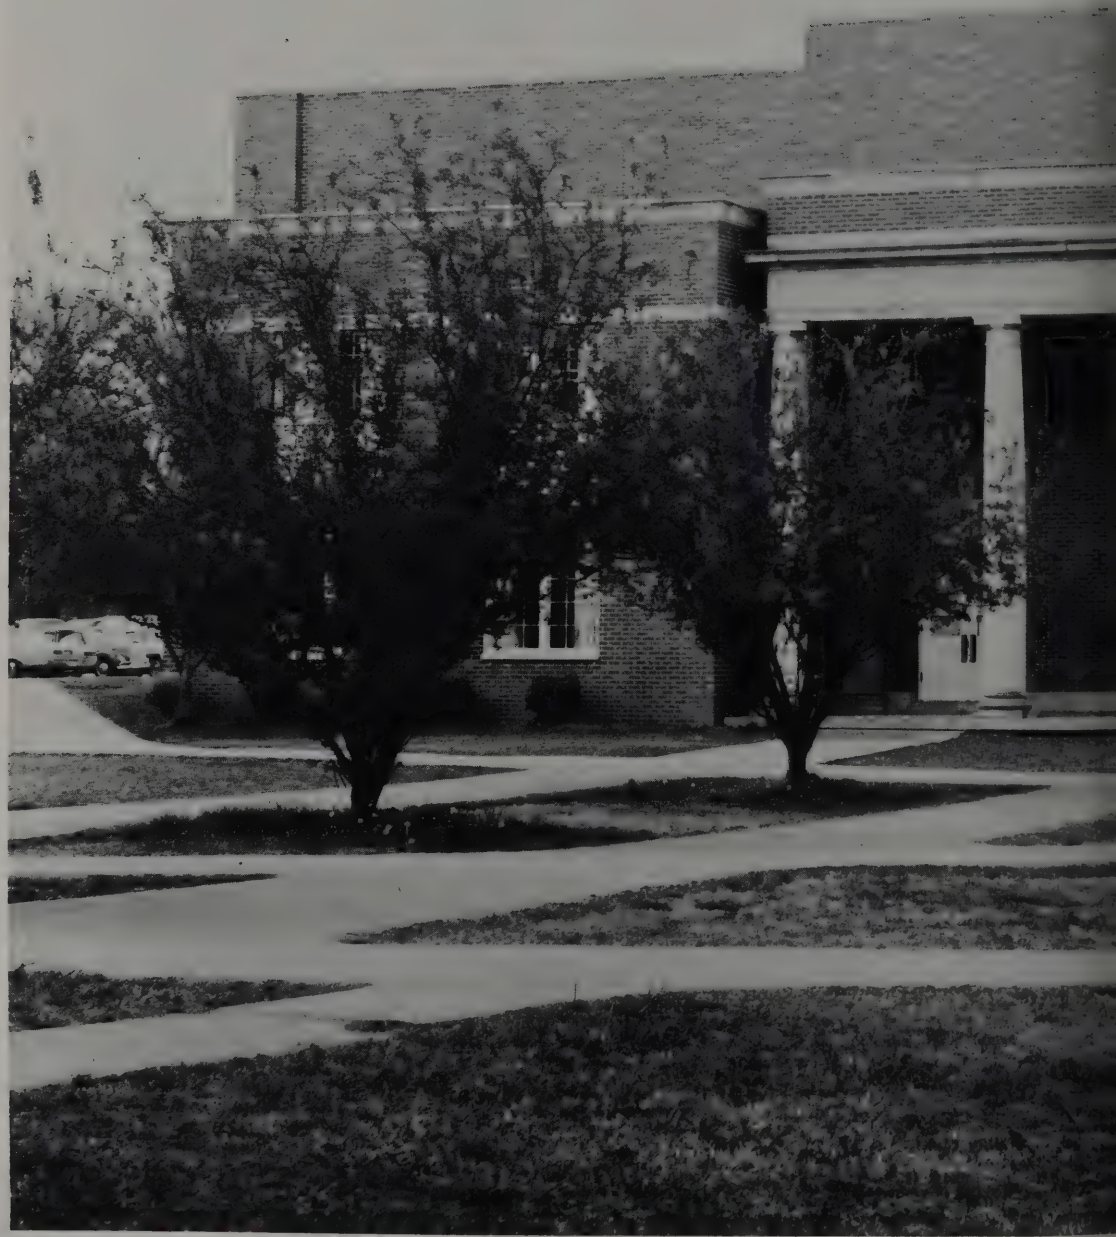

What is required of the editor of a college newspaper? Unflinching energy and the ability to meet deadlines, certainly; it also requires a real interest in the students and their affairs, which is the essence of a newspaper, anyway. These characteristics describe our editor, Laura Lowrey, who, in a serene and steadfast manner all her own, has worked to the best of her ability to give Lipscomb students a paper of which they can be proud.

CAPABLY HEADED

WENDOL THORPE

Following that old maxim that "only a busy man will get the job done," the editorship of the 1974 Backlog was given to Wendol Thorpe. Having served in various administrative positions in Circle K, Wendol is also an active member of the professional business fraternity, Alpha Kappa Psi. The few hours he has for relaxation are spent on the golf course. Successfully combining all aspects of editing a yearbook, Wendol guided the 1974 Backlog in a tireless manner to a rewarding climax.

Help School, Community

Civitan's Work, Join Civinettes For Charities

by Kay Garner

Civitan and Civinettes work together in their efforts to help the school and community. Each quarter both groups meet with the students in a preparatory class to discuss the needs of the community. Civitan and Civinettes recruit new members at the school. Recently Civitan and Civinettes worked with other groups to raise money for the school. They also work together to help the State and local community. Civitan and Civinettes work together to help the school and community.

at 6:45 a.m. to sell newspapers to raise money for the Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt.

BOTH GROUPS work all year around raising money for charities such as the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation, March of Dimes, Heart Fund, Cerebral Palsy Foundation and others.

Another project involves work with the Tennessee Orphan Homes and Clover Bottom Home for the Mentally Retarded, where the clubs help in tutoring and entertaining. Civitan also provide 'Meals on Wheels' every day to shut-in senior citizens of Nashville.

Civitan and Civinettes raise money each year for the Jim McMeen Scholarship Fund. The Valley District gives a scholarship each year to a Civitan in memory of the late Jim McMeen, a former Lipscomb student who was the first Honor Key winner.

Jim received this honor key in 1973, and in the same week he died in a freak boating accident. The scholarship is given to another student and the father of another.

THE DLG CLUBS work closely with the Valley District and Lipscomb to help the school.

The Valley District Convention is to be held Apr. 19-20 when important items will be discussed. Lipscomb has the following 1973-74 district officers: Brooks D. Duke, Governor; Walton Harless, Secretary; and Jonathan Seamon, Sergeant-at-Arms.

DLG Civitan recently chose Keith Nikolaus as Civitan of the Year. Keith will also represent Lipscomb at the District Convention.

Civinettes elected Ginger Hicks as Outstanding Civinette of the year. She will be their representative at the District Convention.

Blood Drive Is Scheduled

by Denise Holt

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on campus again this spring, sponsored by Civitan and Civinette service clubs.

On Monday, Apr. 22, from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m., and Tuesday, Apr. 23, from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m., Red Cross workers will have their facilities set up in McQuaddy Gymnasium ready to accept blood donations from Lipscomb students.

THE QUOTA for this spring drive has been set at 425 pints of blood. Anyone who is at least 18 years old and weighs no less than 110 pounds is eligible to give.

Each donor will receive a certificate for a free hamburger.

As in previous quarters, social clubs will compete for most pints collected.

All students are encouraged to help the Red Cross in this drive. Due to the recent storms, their blood supply is quite low. A special effort on the part of all students would be greatly appreciated.

Attains 'Maximum Efficiency'

Alpha Kappa Psi Continues Long Tradition of Service

by Rick Tamble

Lipscomb's Delta Kappa chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, known throughout the Nashville community for its long service, has started another quarter with projects to benefit others.

In the early morning hours of April 7, members of the national professional business fraternity went from door to door collecting contributions for the Vanderbilt University Children's Hospital.

DELTA KAPPA began the 1973-74 school year by sponsoring, preparing and selling Student Directories. Later, it joined Phi Beta Lambda in collecting Christmas gifts for children in Tennessee Orphan Home and Potter Orphan Home.

Each year these two clubs the men's and women's business groups, erect a Christmas House in the main hall of Baxter Administration Building. Two last year type names of children in the two homes and place them in the Christmas House to be picked up by students.

During the winter quarter, the Alpha Kappa Psi members were knocking on doors also—that time for the March of Dimes.

Each year the national headquarters office of AKPsi raises make AKPsi a service rather than social organization," Bob Sircy, president of the past two years, said.

Between service projects, however, members do find time for fellowship and social activities.

Their annual spring banquet was held April 6 at Silver Wings Restaurant, Nashville, where Miss Joy Sanders was chosen Alpha Kappa Psi Sweetheart of 1973-74.

Also on the calendar this quarter is the annual student-touring lake trip—a weekend outing to a lake area in Alabama.

OFFICERS in addition to Sircy are David Mitchell, executive vice-president; Bill Parker, first vice-president; Gregory Johnson, second vice-president; Terry Page, treasurer; and Jan Connor, secretary.

Dr. Axel W. Swang, chairman of the business administration department, is faculty sponsor for the Delta Kappa chapter.

"It's very satisfying and enjoyable to associate with men who have high professional ideals and at the same time exercise Christian principles," Dr. Swang said.

Vandy Downed

Lipscomb's campus newsleader, the perennial Babbler, once again appeared on a bi-weekly basis during the 73-74 school year. Edited by Laura Lowrey, the Babbler reported events ranging from Bison Day to Watergate. Joy-Lyn Bagley headed Features, Brad Forrister and John Hutcherson shared leadership of the Editorial Page, and Mark Jordan covered Sports. Jonathan Seamon, Joyce Finney, Gina Helton, Martha Templeton and Sandy Weber assisted Bagley with Features. Appearing somewhat regularly on the Editorial Page were Kim Forrister, David Hans Wolfe, Gary Underwood, Rick Tamble, Rob Scobey, Doug Wyatt, and the ineffable James McClung.

KIP HADLEY CLASSES AND ORGANIZATIONS EDITOR

A yearbook is not the easiest thing in the world to produce as Wendol Thorpe, 1974 Editor, learned. Thorpe led a staff of experienced journalists.

In producing the 1974 BACKLOG, Thorpe strived to introduce new concepts into the field of yearbooks. He went back to the traditional sections and divided the book into six major sections, each devoted to traditional campus activity.

SPORTS

Behind every good team there is a driving force. After a dismal season last year, Coach Charles Strasburger was selected to try to turn the basketball fortunes of David Lipscomb College around. Slowed in the early part of a rebuilding season by inexperience, Coach Strasburger drilled his team on defense. This was a deciding factor in many games won by the Bisons. With the experience provided by Clyde Whitworth and Bobby Ferrell, and new faces such as those of Steve Flatt, Bill Fox and Rusty McCain, Coach Strasburger put together a solid defense. On offense the Bisons were paced by Barry Johnson and David Black. Johnson turned in many great performances and Black was always consistent in his contribution. The remainder of the ball club consisted of Barry Dean, Ed McCarraher and Kent Burnett who made valuable contributions to a truly team effort. The success of this year's team was felt by those associated with David Lipscomb College and resulted in hope for the future of the basketball Bisons.

DEFENSE IS THE KEY

Experience and recruiting are the main factors of this year's successful season with returning starters such as Jamie Pride, Mike Santi, Buddy Harston, and Steve Burton back after an arm injury last year, the baseball Bisons have experience. Brent Williams, Tony Muncher, and Bo McLaughlin anchor an experienced pitching staff. With the addition of junior college transfer Daryl McMurtry and freshmen Phil Stinson, Tommy Cartwright, Steve Fletcher and Steve Thornton, the Bisons begin another year in conquest of National Honors.

BISONS LOOK TO NATIONALS

The gymnastics team, under the direction of Coach Tom Hanvey, turned in an undefeated season. This is an accomplishment which deserves notice because the team was comparatively young. Senior Wilt Parker, sophomores Larry Snow and Walter McDade combined with freshmen Bobby Seale, Gibby and Marty Wilson to defeat such teams as the University of Kentucky and the University of Tennessee. Bobby Seale and Gibby both qualified for the NAIA Nationals.

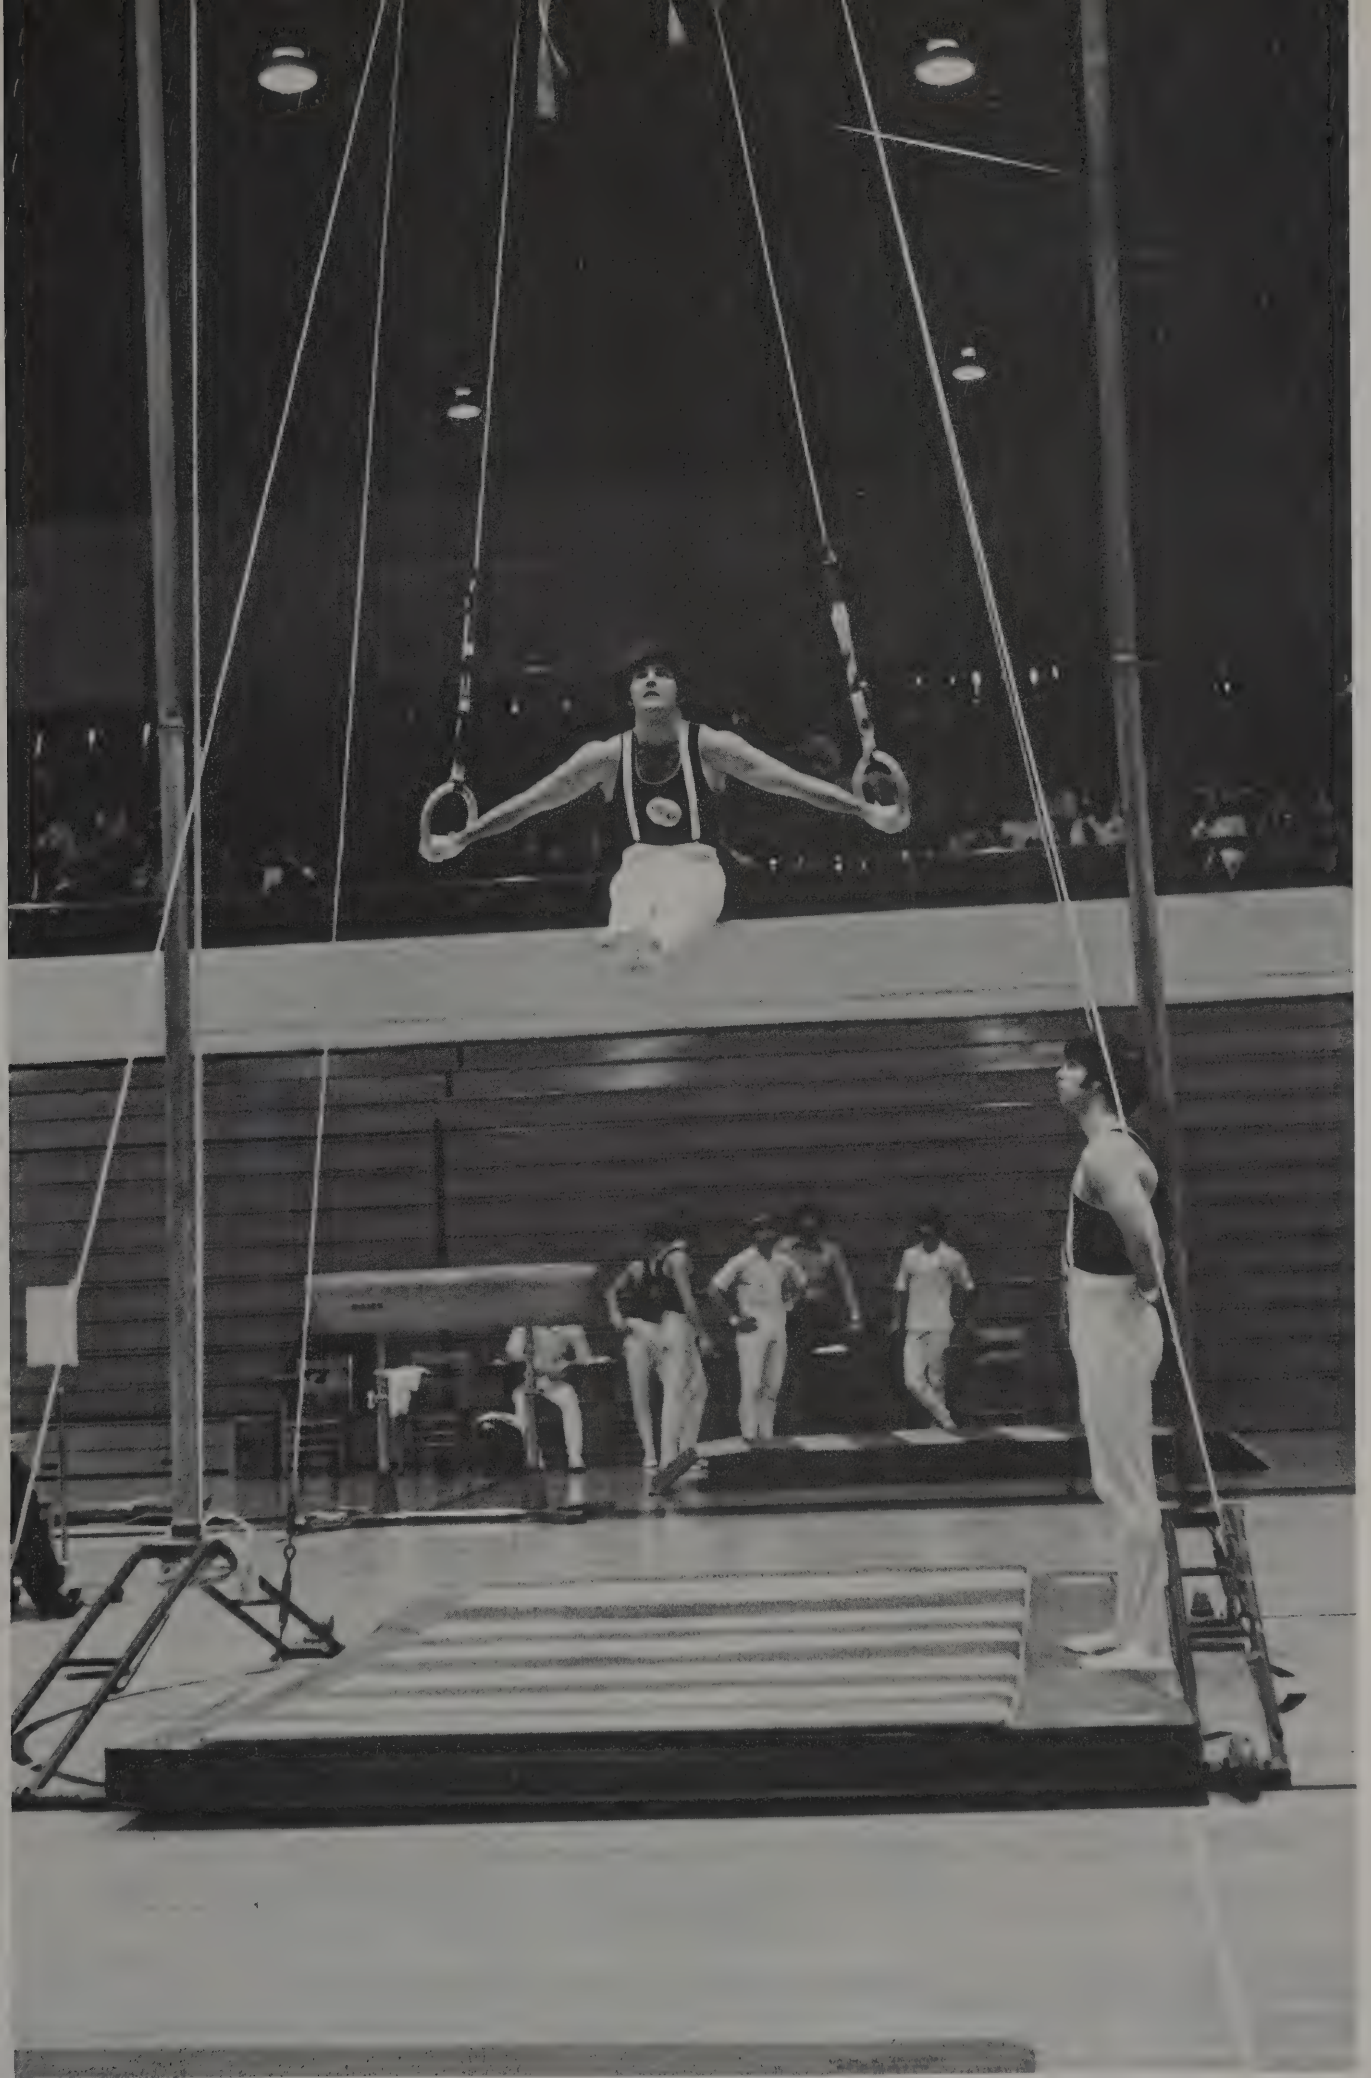

GYMNASTICS UNDEFEATED IN '74

Track at Lipscomb is alive! With veterans such as David Rachel and Robert Cobb, the track team has experienced leadership. With the addition of John Warren and Robert Smith and other capable freshmen, the team looks to a strong future. Many of the athletes are ranked nationally in their respective events. John Warren is the only athlete at Lipscomb this year to gain All-American honors. Robert Smith was ranked second nationally in the 50-yard dash.

FRESHMAN MARVELS RAISE HOPES FOR TRACK FUTURE

Coach Ralph Samples, Eddie Alverson, Paul Kidwell, Cliff Shirley, Clay Livingston, Will Brewer, Sam Wylie, Rick Newman, Coach W. B. Rogers.

Coach Ralph Samples is looking forward to one of his best seasons. Returning are All-Stater Sam Wylie, Rick Newman, Cliff Shirley. In addition Clay Livingston, Paul Kidwell, and Eddie Alverson will see duty as the linksmen strive to put the ball in the cup.

GOLFERS ENJOY WINNING SEASON

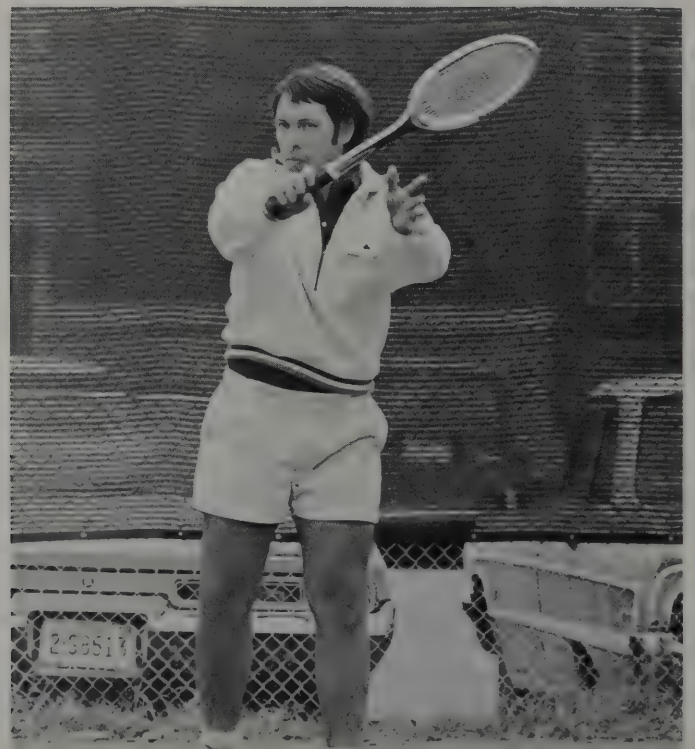

NETTERS WIN AGAIN

The tennis team looked impressive this season. An impressive returning nucleus of Gary Jerkins, Jim Lokey, John McIntosh and Roger Loyd and the added strength of Greg Hardeman, Bob Boyd and Steve Church make this team an impressive one to watch.

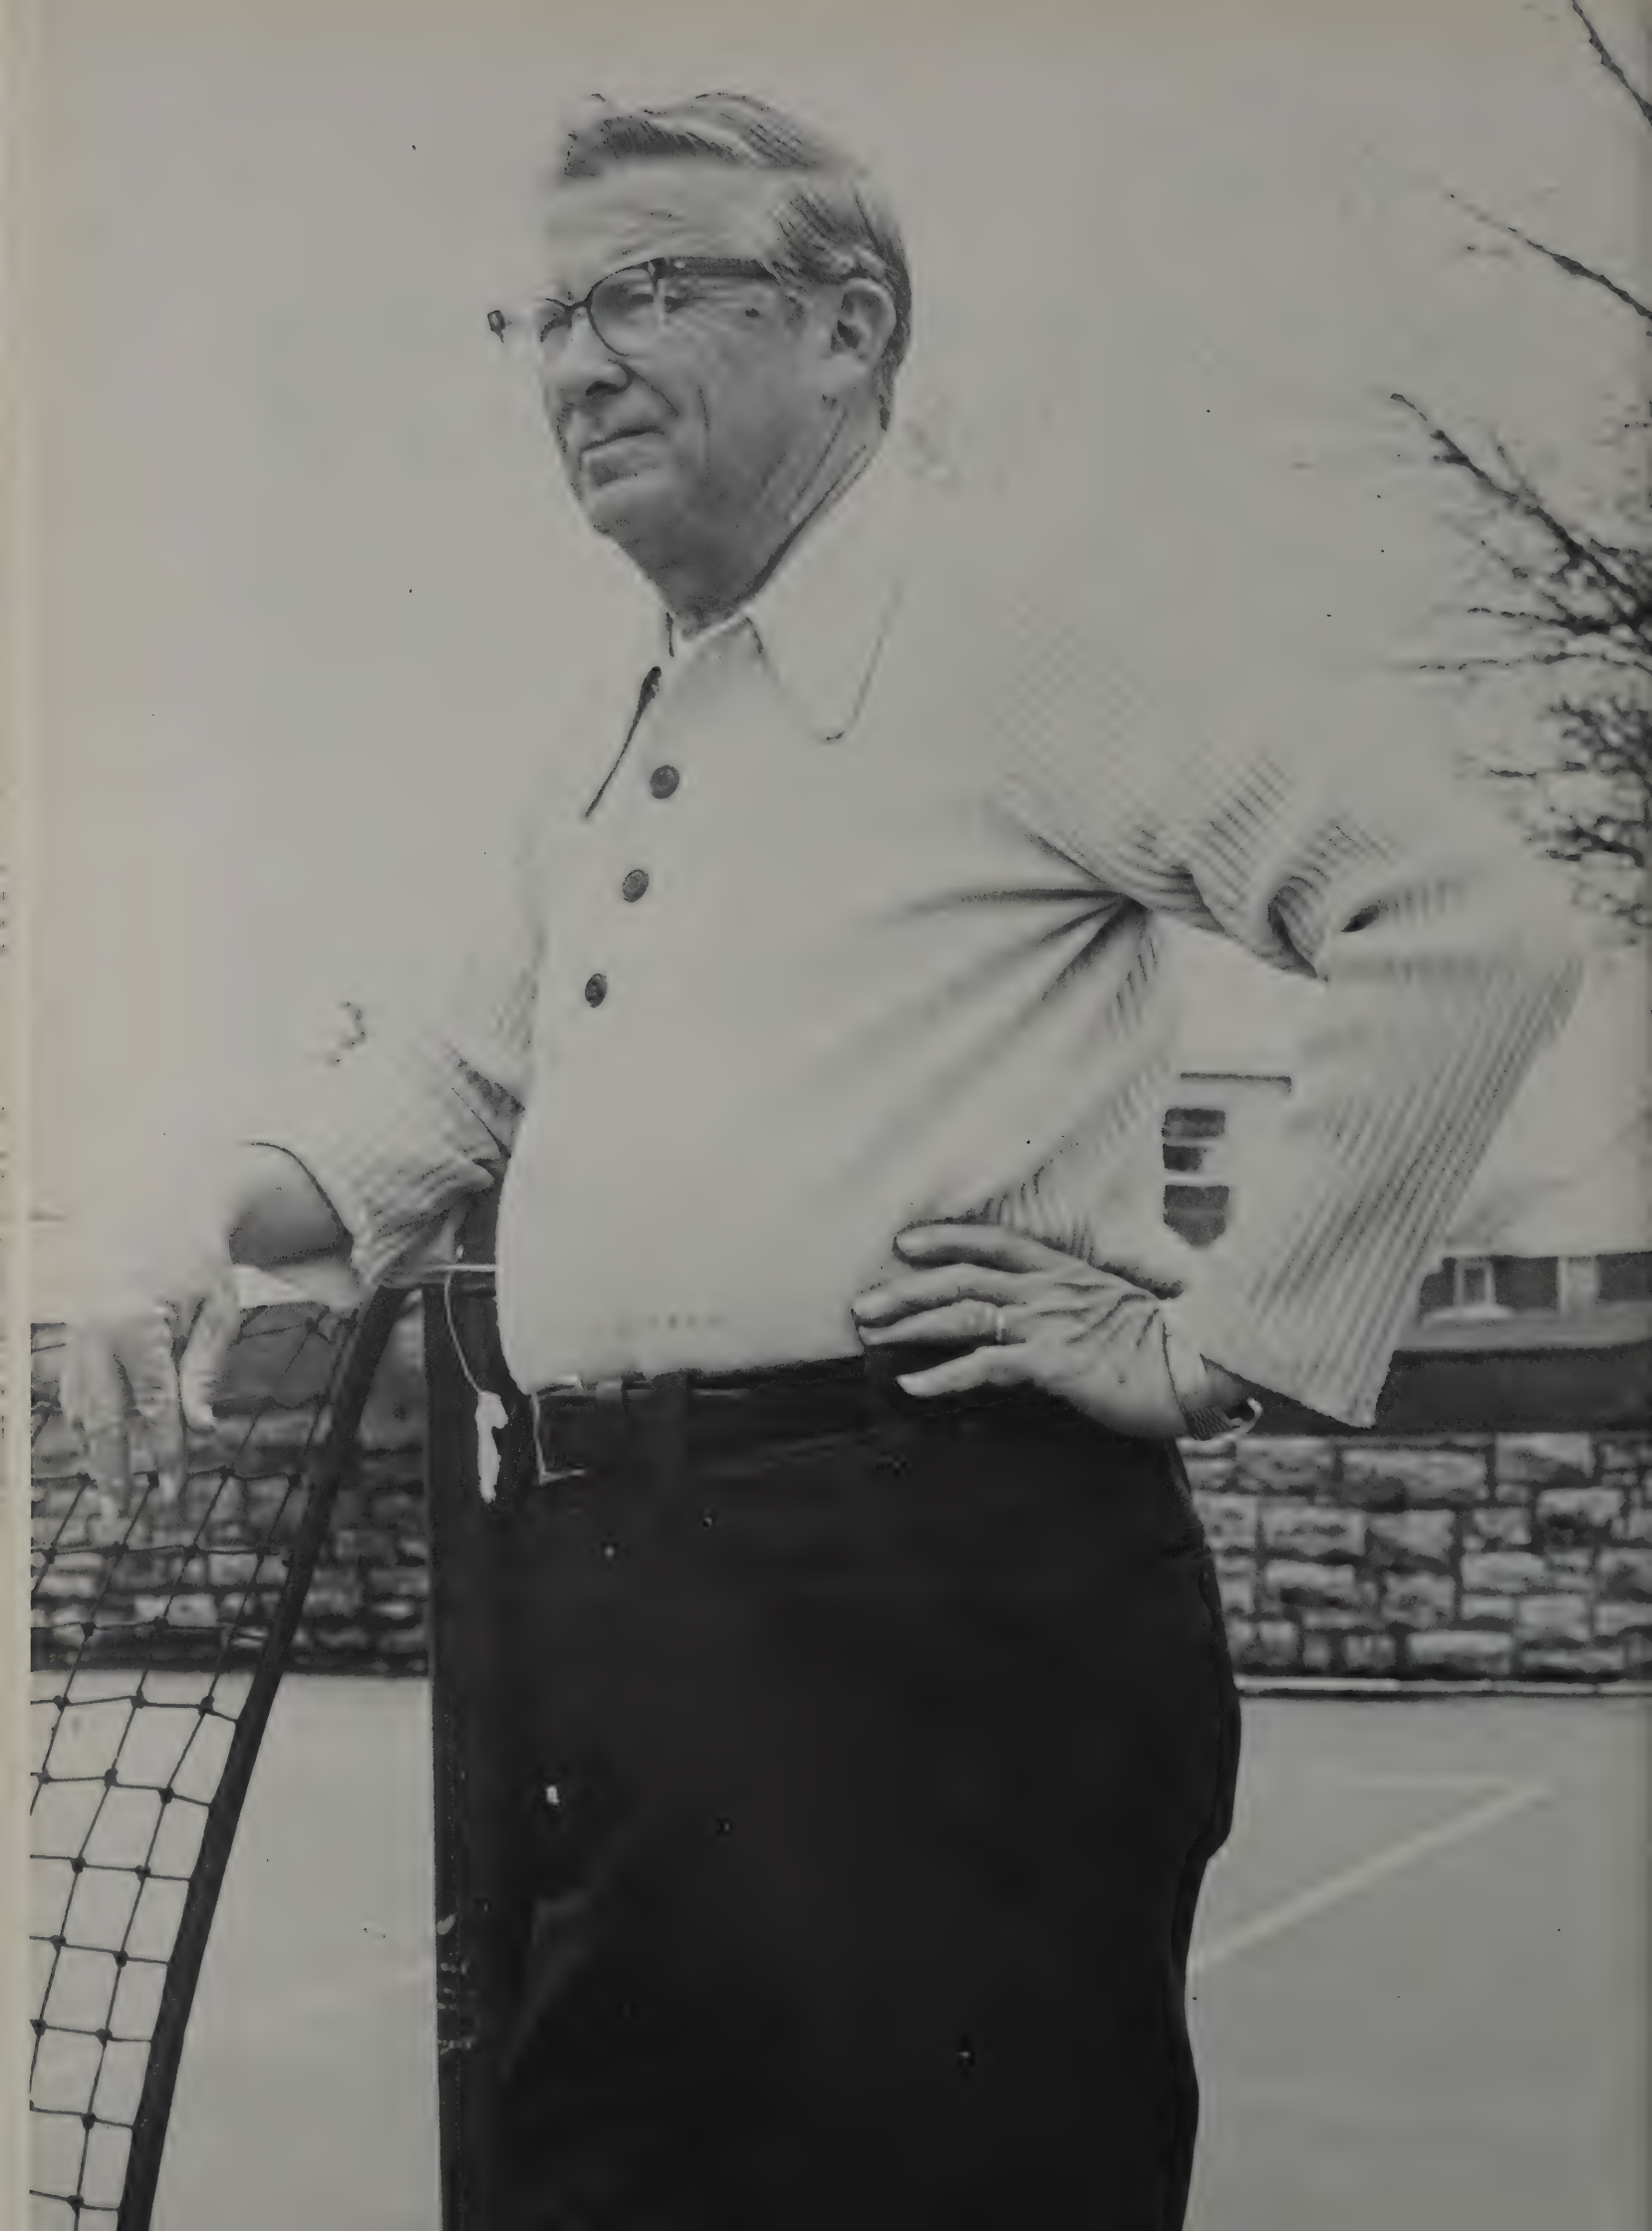

WOMEN WIN '74 MEETS

Tennis is one of the few sports at Lipscomb in which women participate intercollegiately. Women's tennis is one of the fastest growing sports on campus and provides for at least a few women a chance to compete on the intercollegiate level.

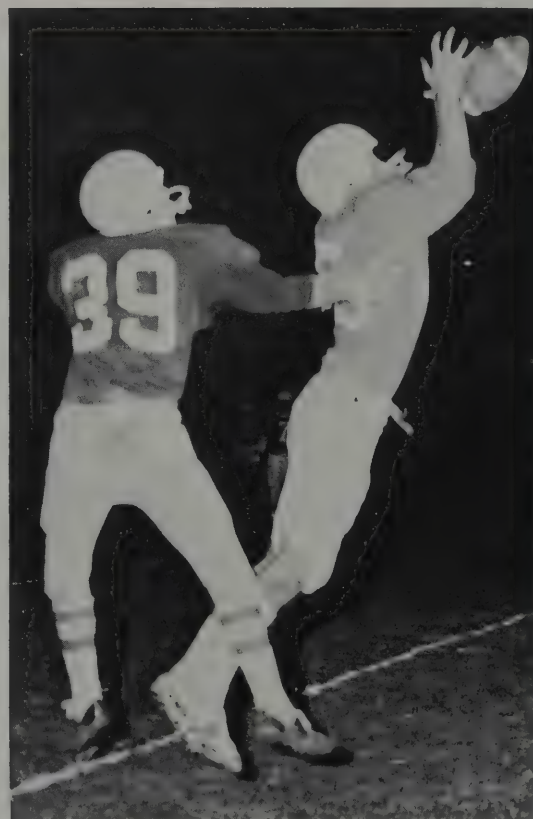

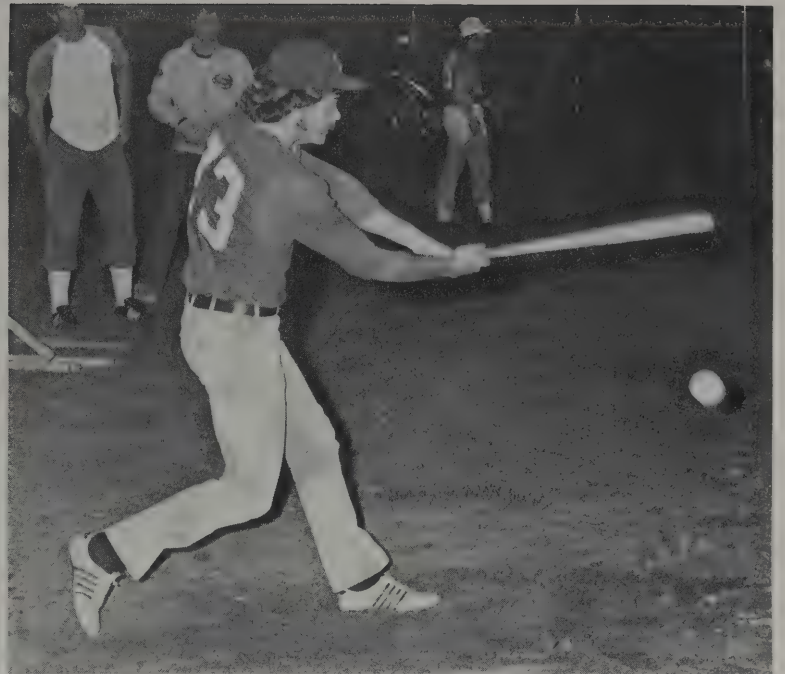

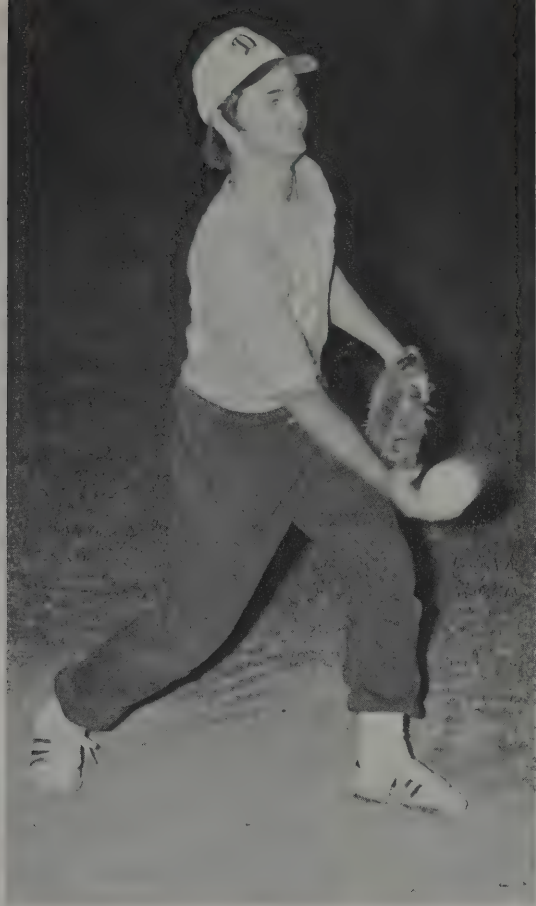

AMATEUR ATHLETES EXCEL

For the bookworm who gets frustrated by his scholastic endeavors and seeks an outlet, for those who find intercollegiate athletics at Lipscomb tougher than their high school programs, or for those who just enjoy participation in sports, the Lipscomb intramural program provides an excellent opportunity to show one's athletic prowess. Under the capable leadership of 'Fessor Boyce, the program offers tackle and touch football in the fall, basketball in the winter, and a host of spring sports including softball, golf, and tennis. 'Fessor Boyce has designed an intramural program which offers to any athlete one of his first choices. 'Fessor is to be commended for his fine, experienced leadership in an area which is such an integral aspect of the sports at Lipscomb.

Row 1—Debbie Mathis, Penny Staggs, Diane Dunlap, Lynn Strasburger, Alva Jo Gann, Susan Hembree. Row 2—Wanda Rainey, J. Paul, Kay Arlen. Row 3—Sharon Oatts, Faye Schumaker.

After elections of cheerleaders were held during the fall quarter, nine women and one gentleman began to prepare themselves to increase school spirit. The tremendous amount of time spent in practice go almost unnoticed during the excitement of a basketball game. The 1974 BACKLOG salutes this group for the fine job they did this year.

ADDENDUM

A Sense of Place. What does Lipscomb mean as a sense of place? To me as a student here for the past four years, it has come to mean a way of life. I see as I look at this book a sense of place. I see many ideas I could have used, but I also see the final book.

I do not know if there is any way I can thank the people who helped me. First, I want to thank Jay Shappley. He has done a great job with the photography. The other photographers, Mel Bryan, Bill Lokey, and Rudy Sanders, also deserve my special thanks.

For helping me organize the book I would like to thank Teresa Dyer, Teresa Parks, and Judy Cherry. They have been a great help to me in setting up pictures and layouts.

The backbone of my staff were Barry McCarver, Kip Hadley, Gordon Lawrence, Mike Austin, and Gary Meadows. I would not have made it without you.

More special thanks go to Suzanne Pilkinton, Ruth Hughes, John Hutcheson, Kim Forrister, Bill Sullivan, Joe Wilson, Sara Boyce, and Judy Barker.

The highest praise goes to you students of David Lipscomb College for making it all possible.

In October 1973 I became editor of a book in trouble. I hope I have produced a book to please the students of Lipscomb. It was produced for you.

I hope I have succeeded in pleasing you. You, the students, will forever be in my memory.
